

SYNOPSIS

I Dream in German

Ich träume auf Deutsch

«We will manage.» The familiar sentence from Angela Merkel has become a byword for positivity in the migration debate. However everyone agrees on one thing: the refugees should be «integrated» into their host countries as quickly as they can be to minimize the financial and political consequences as far as possible. But what does «integration» actually mean? To what extent may people retain their own ideas of religion, values, right and morals and still be thought of as integrated? A documentary from Austria, Germany and Sweden which seeks to examine in detail what integration really means and how it can be successful.

Year: 2016

Run-Time: 1 x 45 min.

Directed by Martin Betz

tausend Rosen for ORF

Available worldwide

Languages: German (ORIGINAL)

Format: 16:9

HD

» SCREEN ONLINE