Society Reporters - A Life for Rumours

Gesellschaftsreporter - Ein Leben für Gerüchte

This documentary accompanies a society reporter and gossip columnist on her daily work. She reveals the secrets of this profession and the various ways to get the information and interviews that interest her readers. The omnipresent camera makes the viewer a voyeur who experiences the private life of those who constantly observe and describe the privacy of others. The Society Reporters is a documentary whose fast pace and continual change of position before and behind the spotlights makes the line between appearances and reality disappear.
