

SYNOPSIS

Fashion, Models and Muslima - The Female Islamic Revolution

Mode, Models und Muslima - Die islamische Revolution der Frauen

The documentary takes a look at the fifties and sixties and paints a wholly different picture of women's rights in the Middle East from the one we're used to today. In those days the veil had become a private matter and equality seemed within reach. Who were the pioneers of this feminist movement? And how could such a reversal take place? This documentary reports on a piece of women's history that will change the way we see countries like Egypt, Lebanon, Palestine and Israel.
