No Mercy

Ausgeliefert

After three years of intensive therapy, the 37-year-old prison psychotherapist Michael Trenk is convinced that his patient Cornelia Steinweg is ready for the outside world. In spite of objections from his colleagues, he engineers Cornelia's early release from prison. While Michael has already turned his mind to new tasks, Cornelia keeps popping up at every turn. In the beginning he finds the attentions of his former patient flattering: However, he soon becomes annoyed when she begins demanding more and more attention. Michael recognises that he was wrong to recommend Cornelia's release. But now his professional career and the lives of his wife and child are at stake.
