

SYNOPSIS

Topless

Oben Ohne

The peaceful life for the tenants of a Salzburg apartment complex is over when the landlord decides that he wants to get rid of them. To make the tenants' time miserable, the owner puts a wicked janitor in charge of the building. That by itself would be a lot to deal with, but many of the residents also have to fight their own personal problems: Take Sarah and Gustl for example, who are going through a divorce, just to end up living together after all. That is dictated not only by economic reasons but also by their love of their son James as well as their affection towards grandfather Willi. Or take a look at Anna, a single mother who has her hands full in coping with her pubescent daughter. Last but not least there is Turkish citizen Seyfi Ülbül, who lives in his car parked right outside the building falling in love with Sarah.
