

SYNOPSIS

La cambiale di matrimonio (The Bill of Marriage)

La cambiale di matrimonio (Der Heiratswechsel)

This early «stroke of genius» of the young Gioacchino Rossini speaks as a prelude to other Rossini one-act operas and foreshadows what is to come in «The Swan of Pesaro's» later works: The European merchant Tobia Mill wants to marry off his daughter Fanny for a considerable sum to his American business partner Slook, but Fanny loves the poor young Edoardo. After a while turbulence dissolves into pleasure as Slook agrees to the marriage contract. A recording from the Theater an der Wien in the Vienna Chamber Opera, 2012.
