

SYNOPSIS

Karajan - Beethoven: Violin Concerto in D Major, op. 61

Karajan - Beethoven: Violin-Konzert in D-Dur, op. 61

From the 1984, 1985 and 1986 concert seasons, one Beethoven-performance by the Berlin Philharmonic Orchestra under their longtime director Karajan stands out above all others. Beethoven's Concert for Violin in D-Major, performed by Anne-Sophie Mutter, turned out to be downright unsurpassable. A truly timeless masterpiece, that perfectly balances the simplicity of chamber music through the soloist's highest virtuosity with the overall tone of Beethoven's arguably most popular composition. Throughout his life, Karajan always maintained a sense for perfection and aesthetics. Together with «his» Berlin Philharmonic Orchestra and the young Anne-Sophie Mutter, he left behind a recording that can only be called consummate and perfect.

Year: 1985

Run-Time: 1 x 49 min.

Telemondial

Languages: No linguistic content (ORIGINAL) , German (TEXT CONTENT)

Format: 4:3

» SCREEN ONLINE