

SYNOPSIS

Kiki's Cosmos - The Art of Kiki Kogelnik

Kikis Kosmos - Die Kunst der Kiki Kogelnik

During her lifetime, as a painter and graphic and object artist, Kiki Kogelnik, one of the most advanced Austrian artists of the 20th century, was a traveller between worlds. Her ideas, which were born in the 60s and 70s, were children of their time and yet were far ahead of it. Not so much the widely popular Venetian glass heads, a «hit» from her later artistic output, but more her surprisingly modern concept of sculpture, which she developed with her famous «hangings» - human figures cut from paper or plastic film and hung on clothes hangers or racks. Or her closeness to Pop Art and her paintings with their advertising aesthetic: representational, colourful and glamorous.
