EU - Fight against Corruption

EU - Kampf der Korruption / Ungarn & Rumänien - Machtfaktor Korruption

For months now, thousands of people have been taking to the streets in Romania to protest against the corruption that is rife there. There are also allegations of corruption in Hungary, where Prime Minister Orbán's son-in-law is said to have lined his pockets by misusing EU funds. This documentary explores why East European countries in particular have problems with the rule of law and press freedom and how the EU is fighting against corruption.
