

SYNOPSIS

Mumbai Loved and Hated - Surviving in the Mega City

Geliebt-gehasstes Bombay - Vom Überleben in der Megastadt

This impressive report portrays people of extreme contrasts that are connected by this megalopolis. Nowhere else in the world do rich and poor live so close to one another as in India's mega city of Mumbai. The Bollywood stars in their luxury apartments over the city look directly onto the slum huts of their neighbours, who as a norm, must survive on a budget of one or two euros a day. 55 per cent of Mumbai's inhabitants live in the slum, and these people will not allow themselves to be driven away, even if those who would like to give the city a modern and glamorous face lift wish that they would. This impressive report portrays people that are connected to this megalopolis in a very special way. Those, whose stories are representative of this city of extreme contrasts.

Year: 2014

Run-Time: 1 x 30 min.

Directed by Patrick Hafner

ORF

Available worldwide

Languages: German (ORIGINAL) , English (DUBBED) , German (SUB TITLE)

Format: 16:9 , , 16:9

HD UT

» SCREEN ONLINE