The Gods of Menorca

Die Götter von Menorca

Witnesses of this epoch are the more than 1,000 prehistoric structures found crowded together on the island: the Talayots, eight-meter high watch-towers, that were the seat of the chieftain and the place of the death cult; Navetas that look like ships lying on their bellies but which also provided the last resting places for princes and even seafarers. Scientists today still puzzle over their meaning.
