

SYNOPSIS

Peter Rosegger - Farmer's Boy and Revolutionary

Peter Rosegger - Waldbauernbub und Revolutionär

Born in 1843 in a profoundly rural area in the Alps, where anyone ends up as a farmer or labourer, Peter Rosegger, however, decides to become an author. The age of the stock exchange, developments in new technologies and the unbridled growth prompt him to take a clear stand on society, politics and economics. With over 15 million books sold he is one of the most read authors of his time. He became an honorary member of London's «Royal Society of Literature», received numerous honorary doctorates and was even nominated for the Nobel prize in 1913.

Year: 2006

Run-Time: 1 x 51 min.

Directed by Klaus T. Steindl

A co-production of ORF and bm:bwk, produced by Ran Film

Languages: German (ORIGINAL)

Format: 16:9 , 16:9

HD

» SCREEN ONLINE