

SYNOPSIS

Coffee - En Route from Orient to Occident

Kaffee - Der Weg vom Orient in den Okzident

This documentary takes us on a cultural expedition through history and describes the marriage of culture and pleasure from the 15th century to our days. First only in use in the Islamic world, coffee was predominantly consumed on ceremonial occasions - until the advent of coffee houses, originally reserved for men only. A previously illegal «drug» became the centre of everyday cultural development.
