

SYNOPSIS

Untersberg - Fabulous Nature

Untersberg - Sagenreiche Natur

The Untersberg is considered the most fabled mountain in the Alps - rich in myths and caves. A giant massif between Austria and Bavaria, it is the local mountain for thousands of city dwellers but is also home to the inimitable local inhabitants. They tell their stories and give us an insight into a modest life dominated by a mountain far from any hectic. They have learned to live harmoniously in and with nature and to take things as they come: Dairymaids and dairymen, ski tourists, potholers and climbers. However, more and more people are coming to the mountains looking for new challenges and thrills and it is simply a matter of time before mass tourism moves into this calm and unhurried part of the world.

Year: 2006

Run-Time: 1 x 43 min.

Directed by Thomas Rilk and Bernd Seidel

A co-production of ORF, BR, and Degn Film

Available worldwide except for Germany

Languages: German (ORIGINAL) , English (DUBBED)

Format: 16:9

» SCREEN ONLINE