

SYNOPSIS

Chinese Power of Healing

Die Heilkraft der Chinesen

Age-old, traditional Chinese medicine (TCM) has drawn an increasing number of followers in the West, including many Europeans, who now enrol for training in the Middle Empire. Chengdu, capital of the province of Szechuan, is one of the centres of this traditional school of medicine. This documentary goes beyond cliché to show everyday traditional Chinese medicine and seeks to answer the question of whether a symbiosis between Western and ancient Chinese medicine is at all possible.
