

SYNOPSIS

The Admirers

Die Verehrer

For many believers, John Paul II was already a saint in his lifetime. Thanks to his charisma he was able to return many people to the fold of the Roman Catholic Church - and even encouraged numerous others to enter into the monastic life. For the documentary, «The Admirers», Peter Beringer visited believers in Austria for whom John Paul II is already undoubtedly a saint - believers who worship him unconditionally and who feel they have found an intercessor in the Polish Pope. The documentary also critically illuminates the impact of the former Pontifex Maximus, the ecclesiastical practice of beatification in general and the speed of this beatification process in particular.
