

SYNOPSIS

Nock - Mountains at Heaven's Door

Nockberge - Land zwischen Himmel und Erde

You might think you were in Ireland, you might sense the vastness of Castile in Spain, but you'd never believe this was the heart of the Austrian Alps: the Nock Mountains are - geologically - Austria's oldest landscape. For a hundred million years, the land around them has risen and fallen, while the mountains themselves hardly moved. The wide open spaces and the wealth of small natural wonders make believe you're not far from heaven's door: wild rivers, endless woodland, lush mountain meadows, wildflowers and wild animals. A perfect territory for creatures shrouded in mystery: the nearly invisible stone marten, the mystic raven and the inquisitive European adder.

Year: 2013

Run-Time: 1 x 52 min.

Directed by Waltraud Paschinger

A co-production by dreiD.at filmproduktion and ORF in association with ORF-Enterprise and Kulturförderung Kärnten

Available worldwide

Languages: German (ORIGINAL) , English (VOICE-OVER) , German (SUB TITLE)

Format: 16:9

HD UT

» SCREEN ONLINE