

SYNOPSIS

The Fire of Life: Power of Destruction - Source of Creation

Feuer - Kräftespiel der Natur

Since the beginning of time the natural force of fire has formed and influenced life on Earth. This documentary shows you the fascinating magic of fire. It takes you to the greatest fire landscapes on our planet, showing the sophisticated and unbelievable strategies plants, animals and native inhabitants have developed in order to use the flames to their advantage. It gives you an inside view of scientists experimenting with huge infernoes in order to learn about modern fire management. This film draws a new image, not about lethal and destructive flames, but about this fascinating, lifegiving source.
