

SYNOPSIS

A Rugged Life in the Mountains

Lebensraum Berg

The Lechtal valley and the mountains towering above it have retained their virgin beauty like no other Alpine region of comparable size. However, daily life and work is often a struggle to survive, and natural catastrophes, such as mudslides, flooding from mountain torrents and avalanches often endanger this natural habitat with its picturesque landscape. This film depicts the people who live in this rugged environment and reveals how life in the Lechtal valley shapes its inhabitants and influences their struggle against nature.

Year: 2003

Run-Time: 1 x 43 min.

Directed by Hans-Peter Stauber

Written by Maria Magdalena Koller

A co-production of ORF and Interspot Film in association with BMLUF

Available worldwide

Languages: German (ORIGINAL) , Spanish (DUBBED)

Format: 16:9

» SCREEN ONLINE