

SYNOPSIS

Women in White

Frauen in Weiß

They are on the hunt for a better world: the women of Mount Abu in the mountains of Rajasthan. Since their organisation Brahma Kumaris was founded in 1937, it has set up 800 meditation centres worldwide. The headquarters of the new religious movement are in India. Their work is based on meditation - in the form of Raja Yoga, the «highest yoga,» taught free of charge by the women of Mount Abu and adapted to suit today's world. The current President of the «women in white,» as they are known in India, is Dadi Janki, who is over one hundred years old and whose advice is sought by politicians and managers from all over the world.
